

With the Oil Men

Murray Dean, who is at the head of the Gypsy Oil company and Gulf Pipe line company, is back from an extended trip to South America, to the land where oil is being found along the upper stretches of the river that empties into the Caribbean sea, and has had a trip that will be long remembered and will doubtless make him contented with home and the United States as an abiding place. Mr. Dean has been greatly misused in Tulsa, where his good hard sense and fine optimism combined have been an inspiration, and says that the country down there is likely to produce oil during the years to come, but that the drilling is difficult and that the structure is very much upturned. He has at that a firm conviction that whenever the time comes that oil is lacking to supply the commerce of the world it can be found there in paying quantities.

J. H. Levey was here yesterday conferring with Mr. Dean and expressing much gratification at the progress being made here in Tulsa. He said: "I certainly would not have recognized the town as it is now in all its beauty, had I not been making frequent visits here." Frank H. Reed will return this morning from the east, where he has been on a brief business trip. Mr. Reed is chief counsel for the G. H. & D. company of the G. H. & D. company has returned from a trip to Oklahoma City, where he has been spending several days. Dan Mahoney left last night for a two week trip to the Wichita Falls district.

C. H. Lammig of St. Louis, secretary and treasurer of the Automobile Gasoline company, which was the first company to install filling stations in the United States, has been in Tulsa for a few days.

J. R. Stockton, with the Producers and Refiners corporation, was formerly connected with the accounting department of Heintz and company, of "57 varieties" fame, the president of which company died a few days ago. He says Mr. Heintz was greatly devoted to charitable work for many years before his death, but was entitled to the credit for having organized from the smallest possible beginning, one of the largest food product concerns in the world.

Oliver Cubana, Jr., has been in Tulsa for a few days on business.

Ralph Hotchkiss of the old firm of Hotchkiss and Foreman is leaving for his home in Buffalo, but has about concluded to get back into the game in Tulsa. He will receive a warm welcome here and will add much to the business interests of the city.

W. N. Davis of Bartlesville, who has spent much time in Washington and who is slated to return there with the committee recently appointed, was in the city yesterday looking after the fine casinghead plant and is looking around to find the best market for his product. He is turning out high class goods and will doubtless find a ready sale for his product.

Leon Theodvin has resigned as vice president and general manager of the Continental Refining company at Bartlesville and will shortly move to Tulsa where he will make his future home. The new management has moved the offices to this city and are now installed in the Kennedy building. It is one of the things that helps to build up the city as no other business can.

DEMPSEY AT TOLEDO, LOOKS FOR QUARTERS

Train One Week and Leaf the Next Is Program to be Followed by Challenger of Willard.

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 16.—With the arrival today of Jack Dempsey, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, Manager Jack Kearns announced complete plans for his protegee's training program for his championship battle with Jess Willard at Bayview park July 4.

Kearns said that Dempsey would work one week, and "leaf" the next, so as to avoid all dangers of going stale. He will do all of his training out of doors, inasmuch as the battle is to be fought in the open, and proposes to do only light work for the first week. The main effort will be to increase Dempsey's speed and to bring his endurance up to the highest possible pitch.

Dempsey was in high spirits after finishing his motor trip from Chicago. He and Kearns spent the afternoon looking over sites for a training camp, but no deal was closed. It is likely the challenger will establish quarters at the beach at Lake Erie. Kearns to build an outdoor gymnasium and charge the public for watching Dempsey go through his stunts.

Kearns said that Billy Miske, the St. Paul heavyweight, probably would be added to the list of sparring partners. Bill Tate and John Lester Johnson, negro heavyweights, Dan Daily, a heavyweight of Newcasttle, Pa., the Jamaica Kid, another negro heavyweight, and Denver Jack Dyer will complete the list.

Johnny Celmars May Be Opponent for K. O. Laughlin on June 2

Johnny Celmars, the man who made Ted Lewis cancel a Nashville engagement last winter for fear of losing his welterweight championship, may be the opponent of K. O. Laughlin in the main event of the next Tulsa Sporting club program on June 2. Negotiations conducted for several days were so nearly completed last night that promoter Reiser said he would know within the next 24 hours whether it would be Celmars or someone else.

Celmars generally is booked as Uncle Sam's fighting soldier, having won the welterweight and middleweight championships of the United States Army. Among his 22 knockouts is one of 20 seconds, Paul Dixon being his opponent, and one of 30 seconds wherein Salome Ciner took the count after one punch. He also sent Bobby Vaughn down for keeps after eight seasons.

Among Celmars' other victims are Gus Christie, Leo Kelly, Roy Hurl, Jack Ketchell and George Lewis.
